HOLIDAY ACTIVITIES

The City of Bridgeport embraced the festive spirit this season by hosting its Christmas Door Decorating Contest and annual Christmas Lunch for employees, an event that has become a beloved tradition for fostering camaraderie and holiday cheer among the staff.

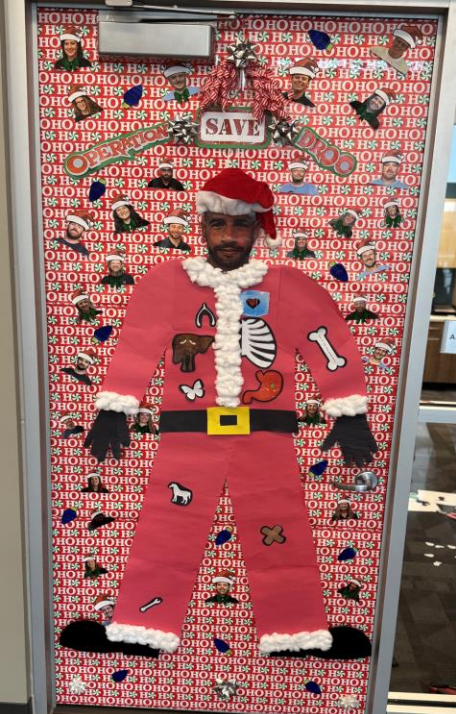

The Door Decorating Contest invited city employees to showcase their creativity and holiday spirit by transforming their office doors into festive masterpieces. From whimsical winter scenes to vibrant depictions of classic holiday themes, participants went all out with their decorations. There was a tie for first place from that contest with the Police Department and Jake Griffith splitting the bragging rights.

The city hosted its much-anticipated Annual Christmas Lunch. Employees gathered in the Public Works garage for a delicious meal and sweet treats. The event is designed to thank staff for their hard work throughout the year and provide a space for everyone to relax, connect, and celebrate the season together. The ugly sweater contest had a three-way tie for first place between Kaycee Crislip, Esker Davis, and Jason Carey.

The city's festive celebrations are a testament to its commitment to fostering a positive and engaging workplace environment. As Bridgeport lights up for the holidays, these events highlight the city's dedication to creating moments of joy and connection for those who help keep it running year-round.
